Very nice mate

What a sad and desperate way to try and get new business, didn't think this was still a thing, and the praise "the way you engage users on facebook is awesome!" you gave is textbook.

We both know that 6 million WooCommerce websites have not just developed a session or cookie issue don't we?

FYI you are no longer dealing with Crewe Home Furnishings you're dealing with the web agency who install WP/WooCommerce which ours and most other agencies would recommend over Magento any day of the week for running an ecommerce website.

You choose to focus on Magento fine... don't go telling businesses who choose to install WP/WooCommerce that their sites don't work... it's petty and pathetic TBH

If I need to respond personally to another spam email from Magecloud Inc I will bill your company for the time it took me to respond or I may bill you personally whilst you are such a well known prevalent spam emailer.
